

Job Title: Account Executive, Ticket Sales

Reports to: Managing Director, Talent Development

Company: ISBI Virtual Sales Network

Position Summary:

Are you a #sportsbiz sales rep displaced by #COVID19? Looking to get back into the industry? Looking to break into the #sportsbiz industry? We've got you.

The ISBI Virtual Sales Network will allow you to earn commission, get trained, and get the right exposure to top executives in the #sportsbiz industry.

We know how challenging this time is for those trying to get into or back into the industry. We know that you want back in the game, and that you have selling skills that you want to exercise and improve upon during this "in-between" time.

Our unique program allows YOU the opportunity to sell for one of our professional teams, earn commission, and get noticed by one or more of our partner clubs for full-time employment.

You will receive world-class training from some of the most well-known and respected trainers in the industry to keep your skills sharp, including Brett Zalaski and Bill Guertin. You will be invited to one-of-a-kind experiences, including special guest presenters from the front offices of teams in every major sports league. And you will be doing it together with a group of highly motivated, supportive people just like you who want to earn their way back into the sports industry.
